

More Scrum Notes

By Flash

The Hobart Rugby Club put on a fine overall performance again this Saturday, for a mixed crowd of students and parents on parents weekend. Our ruggers, enthused over an active crowd, gave the fans a great show, rolling over the Genesee Creamers of Batavia 52-0.

Hobart wasted no time showing the Creamers what the game was all about. It took Hobart just a few minutes to send Rich Cheney across with the first try, with John Hossfeld adding the conversion. Before the half was over, Ken Pratt, with his mom in the crowd, scored twice, and Geoff Bishop scored once, with Hossfeld converting on Pratt's second. In the second half Hobart came on even stronger with scoring drives by Turner Hansel, Chris Hearn, Geoff Bishop (2nd), and two from Dan Kingsley, recently brought up from the B team, with Hossfeld converting four more times. With a 48 point lead David Arthur Freedman scored on a number 8's dream play. Our overpowering scrum, from 5 yards out, drove Batavia into their end zone and left the ball for Arthur to fall on. The A's seem to have combined the right amount of talent and muscle to present a hard running, hitting, and winning will endure three successive lectures, one in chemistry and one in psychology. This three hour session, a test will be administered, compassing all the material mentioned. Five names will be picked out of mine which parents will pass the class. Successful in this endeavor or will lose the custody of their children.

2:30-4:30

Preceptorial - Parents will discuss the and former lives, and go to a winner.

4:30-5:30

Men and women are separated. The stories and the women will compare S.A.T. scores and I.U.D.'s.

B A N G! ~~~~~

By Bob Cosby

Here you are once again, jam-packed in the crowd, watching the runners strung out along a line as might be paper figures, shorts flapping in the high wind. The starter's gun goes up; the adrenalin flows, the heart races, leg muscles tense, the crowd is silent, and then, and team.

The B's match, unfortunately, did not end victoriously as did the A's match. The B's competition, the Buffalo Old Boys, had the size and experience to defeat our second team. Hobart led off the scoring as Stuart Schwartz, the Karate Kid, amazed the crowd with a hard run, breaking several tackles, and going in for the score; Robert Barnett converting. But that is all they could muster as Buffalo tightened up their defense and opened up their offense. When the final whistle blew the Old Boys were on top 26 to 6. Even though the B's lost they put up a hard fight against unsurmountable odds, led again by our roaming stone wall, Steve Lewis.

We thank the friends of Hobart Rugby for their support and hope that all will join in with the fun and the drink on the quad next Saturday as Hobart meets Brockport.
