

Old Boys to Square Off With Mid West Foes

If you enjoyed the South Buffalo Rugby team playing last week, then chances are you might like to catch another game this weekend. Yup, the Old Boys are going to be hitting the field (amongst other things) tomorrow at the Delaware Park Rugby Field (across from the zoo parking lot). The home team is looking for a good crowd to come out in support of Buffalo Rugby. It's supposed to be a beautiful weekend to boot. Here's all the info you need to have a good time while cheering on the Old Boys:

The Buffalo Rugby Football Club (BRFC) will play the perennial mid west power house Indianapolis on Saturday, September 16th at 1:00 p.m. at the Delaware Park Rugby Field. The game marks the first time in twelve years the two teams have met in competition. Furthermore, the match kickoffs the fall season for the Buffalo Rugby Club as it celebrates 40th anniversary in the Queen City.

Buffalo, the Midwest Rugby Conference Champion in 2005, had recently gained the services of Matt McRobert, from New South Wales, Australia. He is former coach, and member of the Bathurst Bulldogs Rugby Football Club in NSW, Australia. With his guidance and the long tradition of success the Buffalo Rugby Club looks forward to a successful season.

The event is free and the public is encouraged to attend to see the fast, competitive play both teams promise to offer. The Delaware Rugby Field is located directly behind the Buffalo Zoological Gardens parking lot. For questions or more details on the game, the public may call William Conrad, member Buffalo Rugby Club at (716) 435- 7874.
