New York, NY
November 29, 2003

The 45th annual New York 7s, the largest sevens event in the United States, attracted 90 teams to Randall's Island to compete in seven divisions: five men's and two women's.

The defending champion Rogue Wolves, a select side of players from around the world, defeated 2001 champion Old Blue (NY) 19-14 to retain the Premier Division Championship on in New York City.

Foreign sides swept to victory in five of the other six divisions.

The Bermuda Selects blanked Buffalo 24-0 to win the Men's Club Division, while Canada's Queen's University defeated Team Enduro, a Coast Guard side, to win the Men's Collegiate Division. The SOAS Old Boys (UK) beat Brickhouse 17-5 in the Men's Social Division Championship.

Club Division:
Bermuda Selects 24,
Buffalo 0

The Bermuda Selects, who outscored their opponents 155-29 with three shutouts in five games, won the Men's Club Championship with a 24-0 whitewash of Buffalo. Bermuda joined six Canadian sides in the 16-team division, which was divided into four four-team pools.

Bermuda beat host New York 48-0, Danbury (CT) 33-0 and the Ottawa Castors 26-10 in pool play before edging Syracuse 24-19 in the semis.

Buffalo went 3-0 in Pool C, with wins over the Westmount Ravens A (Can), 21-10, Manhattan, 24-5, and Moncton (Can), 7-5. They then downed Auburn (GA) 35-14 in the semifinals.